Looking nor', eas', wes' or souse or in any other direction-and you could lock in all these directions simultaneously without moving your head or batting an eye—you could see more champs of golf, tennis and things last night in the big dining room of the Strollers at 67 Madison avenue when they held their annual sports dinner and rotster than were ever gathered together before under one tent. Also there were the Hon. Buffaio William Cody and the Hop. Yours Truly J. Lawrence Sullivan after show hours. And at a late hour who do you think came in?—James J. Corbett!

There were seventy-five Strollers and guests, and they let 'er go at last night's dinner, especially when they remembered that the next dinner is to be the Arts Function and is to be a very mathetic affair. The toastmaster was Edward Fales Coward, and he said as a starter that American mort was a very fine thing, and that if its manly spirit of honest competition was infused into our American business methods Wall Street would glitter more with sweetness and light.

Furthermore Mr. Coward told how young Jay Gould had slammed the wadding out of Hustace H. Miles in court tennis across the creek during the day and that furthermore he could put it all over any beef eating slab sided foreigner any day in the week with both his hands tied and the Star Spangled Banner and long may she wave, and the British are a lot of cheap sports, Oh, Columbia, the gem of the ocean.

wasn't one thing it was another.

Before the nineteenth kind of wine had Before the nineteenth kind of wine had sobbed itself to vacuum they took a count at the guest table and found that among others present might be counted Dr. James Russell, Gardner W. Brown, Findlay S. Douglass, some time champ golf swatter; Charles B. McDonald, champ ditto; Charley Sands, some time champ court tennis player; G. C. Greenway, ex-pitcher and end rush at Yale and a brother of John C. Greenway; Champ John C. Greenway, Yale catcher, Rough Rider and brother of G. C. Greenway; Archie Gunn, who just had time to break away from The Friars' dianer that began the night before and came to the Strollers with two original drawings of a Mrs. Evelyn Thaw which were raffled during the course of the night—or morning; F. Gordon Brown, captain of Yale football champs of '02 or something; Joseph D. Forbes, champ tennis player of his class at Harvard and still pretty good—pret-ty good; Herbert Childs, G. G. Benkard, Richard Hanson, L. R. Hammersley, Jr., Charles Meyer, Jr., and a whole lot of other champ Strollers, not forgetting Eugene—pronounced U-jan—Van Schaick.

Everybody listened politely to speeches extelling the course of stabletic

Schalck.

Everybody listened politely to speeches extolling the sportsmanship of athletic America for an hour or two, but all the time America for an hour or two, but all the time cach diner kept three or four of his eyes steadily upon the door to watch for the arrival of the theatrical persons—Buffalo William, who was busy shooting glass balls not very far away while the Strollers shot highballs; James J. Corbett and last, and most important, Mr. Corbett's dearest friend, the Hon. Yours Truly J. Lawrence Sullivan.

When Mr. Sullivan arrived, after produc-ing art in a Brooklyn burlesque theatre all evening, he waited for the smoke to settle and then he made a speech. He said in and then he made a speech. He said in part:

"Here's lookin' at you, fellers, and hoping these few lines will find you the same. I remain, yours for again, John L. Sullivan."
Everybody filed up stairs after that to see Tim Hurst referee four four round bouts in what John L. called the squared circle. The Messrs. Kid Broad and Kid Wilson mixed it up first. Babe Cullen and Mr. Tommy Nelson of Brooklyn slapped each other next and the Messrs. Joe Duffy and Sandy Williamson of Kansas City and Forty-second street followed these. Then Mr. Eddy Lenny and Mr. Jack Dorman smashed each other all over the features and finally there was a fifth round all by itself that made a noise almost like a patrol wagon. The Messys, Kid Beebe, who has hammered the ning out over everybody weighing 115 bounds who has thoughtlessly gone against him, shook hands with Mr. Jimmy Moran of him, shook hands with Mr. shimly Morah of Brooklyn in this last round and then gave him a bloody nose as a signal to start. It went for six rounds, but as it was just a friendly clubby sparring match both Mr. Beebe and Mr. Moran were able to touch a foot to the floor now and again as they were finally led away.

finally led away.

Between the third and fourth bouts there was a broadsword contest. Three members of the blub said at various times that they would get the names of the broadsword contestants for an anxious inquirer, but they wandered away several feet and their minds got on other things.

At a late hour Tom Mack, the bike impresario of fond memory, said that there was a rumor afloat that one of the broadswordsters was a Prof. Troxler and this may have been well founded. Some time after this all the champs gathered together for a formal discussion on the subject of whether it would be advisable to break training just for a few minutes anyway. Then for some other time after this they broke. As the Broadway restaurants came to a happy close they were still breaking broke. As the Broadway restaurance can fo a happy close they were still breaking here and there and voted it a pleasant evening. Louis Livingston was chairman of the committee of arrangements.

SUPERIOR DOG ON RAMPAGE.

third street had a pet fox terrier—a superior dog in every way—that had never been known to growl, much less snap, at anybody coming in through the front door.

Last night, however, while Mrs. Lysacht and the rest of the family were at dinner the and the rest of the lamily were at dinner the dog began to snap and snarl and show his teeth in alarming fashion. His appearance was so threatening that all persons in the house fied to the second floor and shut themselves up in one of the rooms. The dog, finding he had the ground floor all to himself began to make noise enough for himself, began to make noise enough for a menagerie.

Mrs. Lysacht opened a window upstairs and called for help. Policemen Slatter and Keepler of the East Fifty-first street station came running up and, pulling their revolvers, cautiously entered the front door. Faithful Fido was chasing his abbreviated tail, barking and growling. The two policemen finally got him in the back yard, where Keepler shot him.

PLECTRICIAN BURNED BY WIRE.

Being Shocked-May Recover. wenty-four hours James McDonald, an electrician employed on the new electric overhead system of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, has been unconscious in the New Rochelle Hospital from a shock which he received while working with the wires. It is believed that several thousand volts of electricity passed through his body.

McDonald was working on a platform passed through his body.

McDonald was working on a platform above a flat car when he lost his balance.

To save himself from falling he grasped one of the large feed wiros which is supplied from the main power house at Cos Cob, Conn. With his other had he caught hold of a signal rod.

other electricians heard him scream and hurried to his assistance. With the aid of their rubber gloves they managed to break his hold upon the wire, but not until his hands and arms had been badly burned and his body swollen to almost twice its natural size.

SAN FRANCISCO'S TROUBLES.

Will Probably Start To-day. SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—The last hope of averting the street car strike vanished late this afternoon when a special conferonce between President Patrick Calhoun and the members of the executive commitstill unbroken. The corporation officials refused to make a single concession and the union men were equally stubborn. A mass mosting of the union was called for 1 o'clock to-merrow morning, when the men will vote on the question of a strike. There is no doubt of the result. The men have placed themselves in such a position that they must go out or lose caste with the other unions of the city. Mr. Calhoun has made all preparations to run cars. He tee of the Carmen's Union, called by Mayor

Schmitz, adjourned with the deadlock declared to-day that he was through with the union and from now a fight for an open shop is on. He said: "I will have nothing further to do with unions. The men have been faithless to every interest of the company. They have done violence to the principle of arbitration and I am through with them. I will break heir union before I am done with this thing." It is understood that Gov. Gillett has been approached by Calhoun in regard to use of militia to police the city.

STANDARD OIL'S LABOR WAR.

Will Take Independents' Product in Texas if Non-Union Men Are Employed.

GALVESTON, Tex., May 4,-The oil trust o-day increased the price of crude oil for its refineries five cents a barrel. Never before has an advance been made at more than one cent at a time. The Standard also announced that it would take every gallon offered at the advanced price for the next ten days upon condition that nonunion labor be employed in the fields.

The independents cannot afford to renain shut down many more days and the majority of them favored conceding the union labor demands, but the representa-tives of the trust blooked their plans. All of the Standard concerns are operating with imported labor and six foot wire fences are around their wells. They are patrolled by armed guards paid by the Standard.

The independents have appealed to the authorities and are preparing evidence to submit to the Attorney-General to have the trust concerns prosecuted under the anti-trust law of Texas. The independents have orders for nearly a million barrels which they cannot supply, the trust pipe lines refusing to take the Marry After Difficulties. NEW HAVEN, May 4 .- Miss Celia Clancy and James Radin, said to be the brotherin-law of a Judge of the New York Supreme Court, came to this city this evening [to be married. They went to city hall first for a marriage license, but that building was closed. Then they went to the home of deputy registrar of vital statistics John Buckley, three miles from city hall, and got him to go to the city hall to make out the marriage license.

WENT TO NEW HAVEN TO WED. Miss Clancy and James Radin of This City

In answer to the questions of Mr. Buckley each gave the age of 21 years. Justice of the Peace Edward W. Lynch was sent for and he performed the marriage ceremony in City Hall.

IAN M'LAREN'S CONDITION.

treaking of Abscess in His Ear Gives Belief -His Physicians Hopeful.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Ia., May 4.-At a late nour to-night Dr. John Watson (Ian Mac-Laren) was reported to be resting easier than for several hours. The breaking of the abscess in the ear seems to have given relief from the intense pain endured for two days, and if sleep can be obtained the physicians hope the patient may rally.

apparently recovering from an attack of consilitis, with which he was taken ten days ago while coming here from Minneapolis to lecture at the university. The lecture was cancelled and Dr. Watson took to his bed, where he has been under the care of his wife and two physicians.

GLANDERS CURERS NABBED.

Medicine to a Patient.

Dr. Ray Gannett, the veterinary surgeon who was taken to Bellevue Hospital some the doctors didn't diagnose at that time, hasn't glanders. Veterinary surgeons can get glanders the same as horses, but the Two men who asserted that they could oure the glanders were arrested in Bellevue yesterday afternoon while they were prescribing for Dr. Gannett. The County Medical Society will look after them.

The morning after Dr. Gannett became a patient at Bellevue the papers printed a story to the effect that the doctors were treating him for glanders. A day or so later there came to the doctor in the hospital oct a circular from the Glanderine Company of 152 Park avenue, telling of the wonderful cures that the company's medi-cine had effected for man and beast. Dr. Gannett turned the circular over to the law department of the County Medical Society, and John S. Cooper, who is an assistant to Champe S. Andrews, called the company on the telephone and told it that the doctors in Bellevue very likely were jealous and would not let Dr. Gannett get the real medicinethey had better go there and insist on pre-scribing. The company replied that it would go Saturday afternoon. Then Cooper went to the office of the District Attorney and got one of the special officers. He and the special officer went to the hospital, dressed up like orderlies and waited in Ward 43 until the Glanderine Company, which consisted of two men, came along. Then after the company had left some powders for the veterinary to take the special officer arrested the men. The men said they were Dr. Couradus and Dr. Paul Schmidt. they had better go there and insist on pre-

PRESIDENT TO FIRE A GUN.

Washington, May 4 .- On Monday Presi dent Roosevelt will fire a gun which will be a feeble imitation of that famous musket of Lexington, whose sound was heard around the world. The report of the Presiaround the world. The report of the President's gun will reverberate for a mere matter of 515 miles, which is the distance between Washington and Charleston, S. C. The National Scheutzenfest will convene at Charleston on Monday afternoon and the signal for the opening will be the discharge of a rifle by the President through an electrical device. The President will press a button in the White House and the rifle will be fired at Charleston by the electric current which the button pressing will tric current which the button pressing will Beside the gun there will be a telephone receiver connected with a line running to the White House, and when the gun goes off the President will hear the report over the telephone. The rifle will be aimed at a target and the bullet is to hit the bulls-

Specials in Housefurnishings

3 quart Sauce Pans—29c value 19c Bath Tub Seats—Nickel Adjust-2 quart Double Rice Boilers-

THE MON. STANDAY, WAY IN THE CA

59c value Complete Set Mrs. Potts' Irons Medicine Cabinets-$1.25 value 89c Papier Mache Lap Boards—75c value39c

Skirt Boards-White Wood-

8 quart Sauce Pans-59c value 39c Glass Towel Bars-15c value . 10c 10 quart Sauce Pans-79c value 49c Rartan Carpet Beaters-19c val. 10c

Enameled Colanders—23c value 12c 7 quart Tea Kettles—Solid copper, nickel plated—$1.50 val., 98c ts' Irons
Sec Camphor Balls or Flake Camphor—3 lbs. for.........10c

Combination Comb and Brush Case with Towel Bar and Despite Longshoremen's Strike.

The strike of the longshoremen at the docks of the American and Red Star lines, foot of Fulton and Vesey streets, did not prevent the sailing of the White Star liner

Celtic for Southampton at 11 A. M. yesterday, the scheduled time. Only a few and keep the strikers from the piers. They

A force of men worked all night on Friday on the Kroonland of the Red Star line, which was to have sailed for Antwerp to-day.

It was said last evening that she would probably get away on Monday. The men who had been at work on the Celtic were

The strikers at the piers of the Ward and Mallory lines were paid off yesterday.

They formed a long line a the piers and appeared to be in high good humor. Supt.

Sarstow of the Mallory line said that he

About four hundred and fifty men went on strike at the Old Dominion and French line piers. The men at the piers of the Southern Pacific line are also out. The salling schedules of a number of the lines had to be revised as the vessels could not WRONG COUPLE DETAINED?

Man and Woman Held by the Police May Not

Be the Persons Wanted.

Mich., of which Grand Rapids is the seat

M. C. Ranney and a woman who was ac-the two were on their way here over the Grand Trunk Railroad. The police learned that the couple would come in over the Pennsylvania, so they sent the telegraphic request for the arrest to the Jersey City

Detective Sergeant Rooney met the Black

Diamond Express, on which the couple were to arrive, at the Pennsylvania station last night, and found a woman travelling alone.

who answered the description. She was Then the detective took the couple to

The man, who said he was Abraham

Adams, manager of a soap company here.

proceedings and said he had never been West in his life. The woman was his wife, he said, and he was sure she had done noth-ing to be detained by the police. The woman protested that she had no idea of why she was held.

The Jersey City police couldn't tell her because the Michigan Sheriff had neglected to name the charge on which he wanted the couple lecked up.

couple locked up.
Sheriff Carroll had wired that he would follow on the next train with a warrant, so he is expected here this morning to clear up the case. The couple were detained at

PREDICTIONS FROM PARSONS.

Come Out of Utilities Bill.

of the week to consider reapportionment and to adopt resolutions for the guidance of the Legislature in dealing with the Senate districts of New York county. Mr. Parsons intimated that if his advice should be followed the committee will merely realign the boundaries of the Thirteenth district to meet the objections of the Court of Mr. Parsons was in Albany for the greate part of last week and as a result of his observations up there he said yesterday that be taken as an indication that the Gover-nor's public utilities bill would be de-feated. He did say, however, that from all he could learn the absolute power of all he could learn the absolute power of removal by the Governor would be stricken from the bill.

As to the recount bill Mr. Parsons said that all the local Republican members of the Legislature would vote for it and that he was confident it would be passed.

N. Y. CENTRAL ATTORNEY ROBBED

Knocked Unconscious and His Watch,

Diamond Bing and Money Taken.

smith, a well known young lawyer of Saratoga Springs and attorney for the New York Central Railroad, was assaulted and robbed near the Union College grounds shortly after midnight by some person whose identity has not been established.

The footpad assaulted Goldsmith with a billy and robbed him of a $500 watch, a $250 dismond ring and what money he had on his person, tess than $25. Goldsmith did not recover consciousness until after 2 o'clock this morning. He could give no account of what occurred, beyond

SCHENECTADY, May 4.-Everett Gold-

Governor's Power of Removal Likely

Police Headquarters.

the police headquarters.

Sheriff A. A. Carroll of Kent county, working on the Kroonland.

pered on the other side of West street osite the piers, but made no demonstra-

en were around to preserve order

Mirror-69c value..... 29c WEST 125TH ST., 7TH @ 8TH AVES.

CELTIC SAILS ON TIME. WAHLE GOES A-RAIDING NOW The Kroonland to Get Away To-morrow

HELPS CAPT. M'CLUSKY TO PULL DISORDERLY HOUSES.

No Crusade, Magistrate Says—Just Lend Assistance to Clean Up the Tenderloin -Sixteen Prisoners Taken From One House and Twenty-two From Another.

who is now in command of the Tenderloin police station, went raiding disorderly houses last night. The Magistrate, who is sitting now in the Jefferson Market court and before whom the prisoners taken last night will be arraigned this morning, said that it was not a crusade.

McClusky had simply asked him to help clean up the district and there you are. When McClusky reached the Tenderloin precinct some ten days ago he found that a lot of women from the Red Light district of the East Side had moved uptown, and he et about to get them. But he was hampered by the practice of arresting only the women who kept the houses and letting the

On Friday he went to the Jefferson Market court and talked over the situation with Magistrate Wahle, with the result that last night McClusky and the Magistrate had dinner together. Along about 9:30 o'clock they went into the Tenderloin station and were joined by the Magistrate's probation officer, Jerry Barber. Then they walked out to Sixth avenue and turned toward the outh. They walked in Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth streets for some time and finally stopped in front of the house at 127 West Twenty-eighth street. The Magistrate and his probation man stood on the idewalk and McClusky walked up the steps and rang the bell.

When the woman who came to the door opened it she peeped out and recognized the captain.

"Hello, Cap," she said. "Sorry, but you can't come in unless you have a warrant."

"I have Magistrate Wahle here. I gue she'll do," he replied, and with that pushed open the door. Before any one had a chance to give the alarm the Magistrate, the captain and the probation officer had reached a room on the second floor—a small room not more than eight feet by twelve, in which fourteen women and one man sat.

twelve, in which fourteen women and one man sat.

When Magistrate Wahle had got his breath he whispered to the probation officer that he thought that he would have the whole lot arrested.

"All right," said McChasky, "Run around to the house and tell them to send a wagon. Ten minutes later the sixteen prisoners were having their names put on the station blotter.

blotter.
Lieut. McCann wrote down Cora Mae Wood of 74 East Fourth street as the keeper of the place and Rose Cohen as assistant.
The twelve other women were booked as inmates and the man was held as a witness.

"I want this understood," said Wahle to the captain, after the names were all "those prisoners are not to be released on any ordinary bond. Investigate every bondsman who offers himself and take the usual forty-eight hours to do it if necessary. I want these prisoners to stay put if they can find nothing better than professional

I want these prisoners to stay put if they can find nothing better than professional bondsmen. I

An effort was made to get the Magistrate to hold court in the station, but he said that it wouldn't do. "In the first place I have no commitment blanks or any other bianks, and then these prisoners are entitled to counsel and it is too late for them to get lawyers now, I think. They had better stay here to-night and get their dues in the Jeffersch Market court in the morning."

"I want it understood that this is no crusade on my part," explained the Magistrate.
"I wanted to know something of the conditions here now. Besides, I have done no more to-night than I did when Capt. Cottrell was here. I can say, though, that what we saw in that one place was astounding part of it all. Aside from the reason for their presence there that fact alone is horriole. Had so many been gathered together in a room used for manufacturing purposes they could have been arrested for violating the factory laws."

The news of the raid spread through the Tenderloin, and after that things were closed pretty tight. Nothing daunted, the Magistrate and the captain started out again.

The news had not reached the upper part again.

The news had not reached the upper part The news had not reached the upper part of the Tenderloin, and after wandering through the thirties the raiders, who were supplemented by five detectives, stopped in front of 137 West Thirty-third street. A colored woman came to the door, she was shoved aside and the party entered. On the second floor they found things even worse than they had been in the Twenty-eighth street house. In one small room there were nineteen women and three men and it took two wagons to get the prisoners there were nineteen women and three men and it took two wagons to get the prisoners to the station house.

The professional bondsmen were busy, but as fast as they showed up they were turned down. Even Leon Levy was unable at first to do anything and "Flann" was simply out of the question.

Levy, however, insisted that he could get cash ball for the two women charged with conducting the places and Capt. McClusky admitted that he would have to take cash ball, though he fixed the amount at $1,000. Levy sent out for the money.

The negress at the Thirty-third street house was set down as the proprietress, though she said that she was only the maid. She gave her name as Lucy Thomas and said that she lived at 215 West Sixty-third street.

Heartly Cheered When He Appe Armery—Medals Awarded.

In accordance with a promise made some time ago Gov. Hughes reviewed the Seventyfirst Regiment last night. The Governor and his stati arrived at the armory promptly at 8:30. The big amphitheatre was crowded, and when the Governor came on the floor he was greeted with prolonged applause. Col. W. G. Bates was in command of the review, which was followed by the presenta-tion of the Martin cup to Company D for rifle shooting, the San Juan trophy to Com-pany K and the Banks and Zabriskie trophies to Company R.

pany R and the Banks and Zabriskie trophies to Company B.

Four men received modals for twenty year service. They were Color Sergeant William A. McGalliard, First Sergeant James C. Rogers, Sergt, J. E. Jefferson and Private H. C. Zeigler.

Three qualified for fifteen years service and thirteen for ten years service.

Gov. Hughes left the armory immediately

CAMMEYER

7th Annual Hosiery Sale

This Is the Great Event of the Year In the Hosiery Business

For seven years our sales of Stockings for men, women and children have steadily increased and each year we offer bargains in Hosiery to celebrate the yearly anniversary.

This Sale beginning To-morrow (Monday) will present the Grandest Opportunity ever offered in New York for the public to secure Hosiery at Less Than Half Price.

Women's Spun Silk Hose in light shades, REGULAR $1.50 and

Women's Novelty Hosiery in plain black, Black Lace, colors and fancy stripes, REGULAR 75c. and 69c. GOODS

Women's Plain Colored Lisles in all the leading shades, also Black Lace all over lace ankle, lace embroidered and black with colored embroidery, REGULAR 59c, and 50c, GOODS and lace effects, REGULAR 35c. GOODS - - -Also a complete assortment of Tan Hose in all sizes and every quards, etc., REGULAR 50c. GOODS - - - -

Women's Fine Lisle and Cotton Hose in all the new embroidered shade at 50c, and 59c. MEN'S PANCY LISLE HOSE, ALL THE LATEST PATTERNS in vertical stripes, checks, black and tan embroidered Jac-

Barstow of the Mallory line said that he was getting all the men he needed. The Sabine, the only vessel being loaded here, would get away on time, he said.

At the Ward line docks the Morro Castle was being loaded. The Antilla, bound for Cuba, was being loaded and will sail tomorrow or Tuesday, a day or two late.

"The Morro Castle," said Supt. Gibbs, "is not being delayed by the strike. She had to be repaired and we had to wait our turn to get her into dry dook. There is a good deal of exaggeration as to the number of men on strike. We are getting all the men we need. Sometimes we need a thousand men and sometimes only two hundred, according to the number of vessels which may happen to be loading. To-day, for instance, we have no need for any men in Brooklyn."

About four hundred and fifty men went JAMESTOWN DIRECTORS VOTE AN ISSUE OF BONDS.

Say That the Affairs of the Company Are in Good Condition-Hope to Get the Money in New York -Has $295,000 Due It for Concessions and the Like NORFOLK, Va., May 4 .- Forty members of the board of directors of the Jamestown Exposition Company went into an executive session of four hours length this evening and at its close announced that a resolution authorizing an issuance of $400,000 in bonds by the exposition company had been wired to the New York police on Friday passed. The bond issue will be secured by a mortgage on the property on which the exposition buildings now stand. night asking them to arrest a man named The statement given out after the meeting companying him. The message said that cites these facts and then continues: "The report of the officers gave a very ncouraging statement of the condition of affairs of the company, which was entirely satisfactory to the board and the following esolution was unanimously adopted:

"Be it resolved by the board of directors of the Jamestown Exposition Company, that the exposition being now open and nearly complete, it takes this opportunity to express its entire confidence in the management of the company under its officers and board of governors and fully indorses the able manner in which they have conducted the affairs of the

"The matter of negotiating the bonds was referred to the board of governors

"It was demonstrated that the proceeds of this bond issue would be sufficient to pay all of the company's floating indebtedness, carry out all existing contracts, complete the exposition in all of its details and add materially to its attractiveness and great exposition, one that will compare favorably with any held in this or any other country, and that the facilities for handling and taking care of the public are

In a statement made to-day Barton Myers confirmed the report that the Exposition managers are putting their hopes for the purchase of these bonds to be issued on a New York capitalist. He said that Chairman Parsons of the Republican county committee said yesterday that a meeting of the executive committee of President Tucker was still negotiating with this person in New York. The exposition company was not bankrupt. Mr. Myers that body would be held in the early part said, but still able to claim assets in advance of its liabilities.

It was said unofficially to-day that one reason why the Jamestown company was not yet been able to secure cash payment of $295,000, representing the purchase of stocks and of concessions. This sum has already been hypothecated by loans, and as soon as the $400,000 is realized from the as soon as the $400,000 is Peanized from the bond sale the exposition company prom-ises to take up the notes on these loans. For reasons of policy the fair managers cannot press the people who still owe this

READY FOR THE PAUL KELLYS. Nabbed for Carrying It.

115th street, had some trouble with the Paul Kelly gang in Harlem a week ago. On Friday night he went down to the Rowery and bought a bulldog revolver and a box of cartridges in a pawnshop.

The big gun bulged through his coattail when he appeared on lower Second avenue and caught the eye of Detective Meyers of he Fifth street station, who arrested him.

"I was only getting ready for the Paul Kellyz if they bothered me again," he explained to the policeman.

In the Yorkville police court yesterday Magistrate Steinert said he didn't approve of such preparations for expected trouble and held Gassman in $300 ball for trial for carrying a concealed weapon. 115th street, had some trouble with the BANK'S LOSS IS $1,611,984. Affairs of the Milwaukee Ave. Concern in Chicago Wound Up by Receiver.

CHICAGO, May 4 .- All of the affairs of the defunct Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, no account of what occurred, beyond recalling that he was greeted by some person in Union street near Union College immediately before the attack.

Mr. Goldsmith was on his way to take a trolley car for Saratoga, having been attending the union of Cornell Aiumni Association of Eastern New York, held last night at the Mohawk Club. When Goldnight at the Mohawk Club. When Goldnight at the Mohawk Club. for the wrecking of which Paul O. Stensland was sent to Joliet Prison, were wound up yesterday when Receiver John C. Fetzer filed his report with Judge McEwen of the Superior Court. The report shows that the assets acquired by Mr. Fetzer were $4,914,764. It also shows the total loss to

The Court complimented the receiver on the manner in which the affairs had been managed, and set Tuesday as the day on which he will determine the amount of fees Association of Eastern New York, held last night at the Mohawk Club. When Goldsmith appeared at police headquarters this morning to report the case he presented an awful appearance. His lace was frightfully battered and both eyes were black.

EXPOSITION NEEDS $400,000 THE ALLEGED TIMBER THEFTS. Justice Devendorf Overrules the Demurrers to the Indictments.

> UTICA. May 4.-Despite a warning by defendants' attorneys that if the indictments against William E. Syphert, Albert Harrig and James Gallagher for the alleged theft of $50,000 worth of timeer from State lands were permitted to stand the lumbering village of Forestport would be ruined Justice Devendorf, at Herkimer this afternoon, overruled the demurrers to the indictments. The decision marks the final defeat of the efforts of the three defendants, all of whom are men of wealth, to ward off prosecution on the charges brought against

These are the cases which Gov. Hughes, acting for the State, recently refused $20,000 to settle, and throughout the proceedings to date the Governor has had two secret representatives keeping close track of events in connection with the prosecution of the accused men. There has been a of the accused men. There has been a great deal of talk of irregularity in the finding of the indictments, and a week ago five of the members of the Grand Jury which returned the bills made affidavits that they had been coerced into finding the indictments by the District Attorney, who, they said, threatened them.

Attorneys for the defendants based a motion for quashing of the indictments on these affidavits, but the Court ruled adversely and demurrers were then filed which the Court disposed of to-day, whereupon Syphert, Harrig and Gallagher were which the court disposed of to-day, where upon Syphert, Harrig and Gallagher were arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Attorney Watkins for the prisoners argued that the indictments were defective on account of dualicity, in that in each count the defendants are charged with two distinct crimes, grand larceny in taking and carrying away certain logs and a misdemeanor under section 640 of the Penal Code in cutting the trees and severing them from the realty. He also insisted that it was not grand larceny to steal timber from State lands, because under the law timber owned by the State was not property ithin the common law or statute defining grand larceny. He argued that the State could not sell it or dispose of it, and therefore it had no value attached to it.

In closing his remarks Mr. Watkins said the case meant a great deal not only to the defendants but to the entire village of Forestport, which, he declared, would be ruined unless the indictments were dismissed, inasmuch as the defendants are the mainstay of the town and their prosecution would halt the lumber industry there the mainstay of the town and their prosecu-tion would halt the lumber industry there. Justice Devendorf was unmoved, however, and decided that the three men of wealth

STEALS TO AID WIFE AND BABY.

Hearted Complainant. William H. Wilson was a prisoner in the Jefferson Market court yesterday morning charged with theft, while his wife and twonished room at 422 West Eighteenth street. Wilson was accused of taking some clothing from the room of another lodger. Herman Eckert, a waiter.

Wilson, who was completely unnerved, and tooked sick himself, admitted that he had stolen the property. He had pawned it, he said, to get food and medicine for his wife and child.

it, he said, to get food and medicine for his wife and child.

"I came from Maryland in July, Judge, he said, "and worked steady until two months ago. A strike threw me out of work. The money I had saved all went while I was hunting for a job. Two weeks ago the baby came. My wife has been ill ever since. I hadn't a cent Thursday and the wife and baby were hungry and needed medicine. I just got desperate, and when I saw the door of a room open I couldn't resist taking some of the stuff and pawning it. The money helped them a little, but I guess I've disgraced them now, but—"

Wilson broke down and couldn't say more. Probation officer Barber told the Court that he had investigated Wilson's story and found it true.

Magistrate Wahle, who was moved by the story, turned to Eckert and asked him the story, turned to Eckert and asked him if he wished to press the complaint. Eckert said that he did. Dr. Lillian Mildred Walker, maid that he did. Dr. Lillian Mildred Walker, who used to answer calls on the Gouverneur Hospital ambulance, has taken care of the mother and child since Wilson's arrest, on Thursday. She asked the Court to be tenient. Wilson begged to be released on parole so that he could go home and be with his wife and child.

"I should like to be lenient with this man." said Magistrate Wahle. "He has suffered enough and it's going to make it still harder for his wife and child, but he admits the orime, so I must hold him for trial in $1,000 crime, so I must hold him for trial in $1,000 beil."

Wilson was led away to a cell, as he had no one to go on his bond.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 4 .- Yogg men, possibly the same who recently blew open the safe in the Hartsdale post office, forred an entrance into Postmaster T. S. Hammond's residence at Hartsdale last night and stole valuables worth $600.

When they blew open the post office safe they only found 22 cents. WOMEN SPRING A TICKET

75c

59c

39c

29c

And Elect Most of It at High School Tonello. ers' Meeting.

As the result of strong feeling again the men who were against the White bill for equalization of salaries the women framed up a ticket of their own at the annual after election of officers of the High School Teach ers' Association held yesterday in the High and School of Commerce, on Sixty-fifth street of and near Broadway. The meeting was exciting and lasted from 10 o'clock in the morning () at until 2 in the afternoon. The women elect all but two of their candidates. John Iwon Tildsley of the High School of Commerce and was elected president and James F. Wilson to of the Stuyvesant High School was elected and member of the executive committee. Tildsley was elected by a plurality of twentyseven votes. Previous to his nomination he made a speech telling of his stand against the White bill. Mr. Tildsley's talk was requently interrupted by laughter and remarks from the women.

The other officers elected were dissipation. Katherine Speir of the Wadleigh High was 1 School, vice-president; Mrs. Evelyn W. Allen of the Manual Training High School. Brooklyn, secretary; Miss Mary V. Linden of the Washington Irving High School, treasurer; Jesse E. Whiteit of the De Witt Clinton High School, member of the creative committee, and Miss Wilhelmina Durlos of the Girl's High School, Brooklyn, mem-

Miss Nina Vano of the De Witt Clinton.
High School said last night:

"It was clearly a great victory for the women. The meeting throughout was most orderly and dignified. We got together before and organized our ticket and put it through without a hitch, except the election of Mr. Tildsley and Mr. Wilson, and we came near defeating them.'

COLUMBUS GOOD FOR A DINNER. Senate Hears That He Is Dead and Votes

the Eighteenth district in The Bronx, was, last night of the United Councils of The Bronx of the Knights of Columbus, Her put a bill through Congress appropriating $100,000 for a statue of Christopher Columbus to be erected in Washington.

monument bills and when he was asked before hand to recognize Congressman Goulden for a vote on the bill he shift cigar to the other corner of his mouth and cigar to the other corner of his modes and remarked:

"Columbus died a long while ago."

However, he relented and the bill got through the House the evening of Manch 3.

That gave Congressman Goulden until noon the part days coret it represented and the part. that gave Congressman Goulden until noon the next day to get it engrossed and put through the Senate.

Congressman Bennet took it to the Senate in behalf of his colleague and asked a Senator who was a friend of his to put it through "What is the bill?" the latter asked.

"Monument for Christopher Columbus."

"West, is he dead?"

"Yee, I am sorry to say he has died."
"Well, if you will give me your word of onor that he is dead I'll get it passed."

WOMAN PUNCHES MAN ON CAR.

Mother of Three Uses Fist When There is a Tight Squeeze on Platform.

A Third avenue car bound downtown and running west on 125th street was crowded to the steps last night. When it came to a stop at Third avenue a young man escorting dressed, and a woman with three children all tried to get off at once. The platform and step being only of the usual width there was not room for this. A tight squeeze to lowed, from which emerged the mother of the three children with flashing eyes.

the three children with flashing eyes.

"You dirty rascall" she shouted at the young man. "I'll teach you to insult me, out shot her fist and smote the young man on the jaw. He protested that he had not insulted her.

"Not another word," cried the woman, "or I'll strike you again." Then she hit him on the jaw once more to emphasize her remarks.

her remarks

her remarks.

"Come on, Mame," said the young man to his friend, "this is no place for us." He hurried away rubbing his jaw.

The woman with the three children looked around cheerfully. The conductors who was wedged in the middle of the car, had been unable to arrive on the scene of action. The puncher refused to give ther name.

To Lay Cornersione of Home for the Aged? Mgr. Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral, will lay the cornerstone of the rew Home for the Aged at Belmont avenue, and 183d street, The Bronx, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. He will be assisted by the Rev. Henry Otterbein, chaplain of the Little Sisters of the Poor, who are building the